STORY

The Gunpla Battle U.S. Championship has reached the final round following intense fighting. The figure of a particular fighter appears there.
 A few months later, Misa Satsukino, who is building a new Gunpla in Ayato Shopping Street, seems to be in a bad mood. As an outlet for her unfocused anger, she enters battle with her completed Gunpla in a simulator, but it is suddenly restrained. The fates of the Gunpla Fighters are at a crossroads on the eve of the massive GB Festa event.

CHARACTERS

This series features characters from Gundam Breaker 3 and Gundam Breaker Mobile.

Ryusei Fudo (VA: Kensho Ono)

◀ Sokai High School third-year student. Sana persuades him to join the Gunpla club, but his talent for Gunpla Battle quickly blossoms thanks to his friendly rivalry with Touma and special training with his senior Rindo. Ryusei receives the high school Triple Crown for individual competition.

Misa Satsukino (VA: Yuka Iguchi)

▶ To stop the decline of Ayato Shopping District in her hometown, she forms a Gunpla team with the same name. Takuma's addition inspires her to mature as a Gunpla fighter. She is responsible but rash, acting before she thinks.

Touma Aizen (VA: Yuki Ono)

◀ Ryusei's friendly adversary. Touma used to be the leader of the Sokai High School Gunpla club, but in order to support his family, he transfers to a high school affiliated with Gokusode University. Despite his calm demeanor, he has a daring and aggressive battle style.

Kadomatsu (VA: Tomokazu Sugita)

▶ A researcher who specializes in information science. He enjoys computer games and works as a support engineer for the Ayato Shopping Street Gunpla Battle Team as a hobby.

Sana Miyata (VA: Rie Takahashi)

▲ Sana recruits Ryusei to help save the Sokai High School Gunpla club, which is on the verge of disbanding due to a lack of members. Sana's latent talents awaken through continued activity, and she comes to enjoy Gunpla with all her heart, despite her low opinion of herself as a Gunpla Fighter.

MECHANICS

Six mechanical designers, including Kunio Okawara, will be involved in the project. How will the Gunpla fare in the story, with each having an unique design?

Gundam Helios

(Designer: Kunio Okawara)

A Gunpla made by combining elements from various Gundams. It was named after the sun god Helios because of the dazzling radiance emitted from the clear parts all over its body when it deploys its huge wings and releases its fins.

Gundam Livelance Heaven

(Designer: Kyoshi Takigawa)

Based on the Gundam Deathscythe Hell, this Gunpla was customized with an angel-like design and coloring, the polar opposite of its original Grim Reaper motif. Its active cloak unfolds into six massive wings.

▲ Active Cloak closed

Gundam Perfect Strike Freedom

(Designer: Kotaro Ando (Studio GS))

A Gunpla based on the Strike Freedom Gundam that incorporates the Perfect Strike Gundam's functionality. Its sword and launcher employ a connection gimmick, allowing for more powerful shooting and close-combat attacks.

Blazing Gundam

(Designer: Kyoryu Kuramochi)

This Gunpla was customized with the concept of being a sibling machine to the God Gundam, just as the Rising Gundam is a sibling machine to the Shining Gundam. This ultra-fast close combat machine weighs significantly less than the God Gundam.

Gundam Barbataurus

(Designer: Naohiro Washio)

A Gunpla based on the Gundam Barbatos. Connecting two Gundam frames resulted in a four-legged silhouette with a centaur motif.

Gundam OO Command Qan[T]

(Designer: Kanetake Ebikawa)

A Gunpla that incorporates elements of the SD Command Gundam into the OO Qan[T]. It has many new weapons designed for both long and short-range use, allowing it to fight in any situation, in addition to improved defenses thanks to its extra armor.

The Gunpla Release Calendar for 2021 includes a slew of Gunpla based on Gundam Breaker Battlelogue, introduced in the previous chapter. They have entirely different appearances from the original kits used as their motifs, which makes them very exciting.

11 NOVEMBER 2021 HG Helios Gundam

Helios Gundam is an improved version of the Gundam Areus used by the protagonist of Gundam Breaker Mobile. It incorporates designs from several Gundams! The iconic wings of the Freedom Gundam and the Double Satellite Cannon have been modified in unexpected ways. It has the "Palma Fiocina" Palm Beam Cannon from the Destiny Gundam mounted on both hands.

● 2530 yen, released in November 2021

◀▶▶ The successor to the Gundam Areus. The backpack wings have been changed from Destiny Gundam to Freedom Gundam, and the shoulder armor has been changed from F91 with heat-dissipating fins to a Unicorn Gundam-style psycho-frame.

11 NOVEMBER 2021

HG Gundam Livelance Heaven

It is a Gundam Deathscythe Hell variant. Unlike the original, this Gunpla has a contrasting white and gold color scheme. Its primary weapon, the Beam Lance, can also transform into a rod, a lance, and a scythe.

HG Gundam Livelance Heaven
● 2220 yen, released in November 2021

◀▶▶ Its base Gunpla is the only one of the series' six original Gunpla that has not been adapted into an HG kit. We've seen a lot of Gundam Wing kits recently, so we'd like to see this base kit released as a kit as well.

12 DECEMBER 2021

HG Gundam Perfect Strike Freedom

The MS is outfitted with a Combo Weapon Pod on the right shoulder, as well as numerous Perfect Strike Gundam-inspired weapons. It carries upgraded versions of the "Xiphias 3" railguns in its backpack. It also has the "Schwert Gewehr" Anti-Ship Laser Sword and the "Agni" Hyper Impulse Cannon.

HG Blazing Gundam

The Blazing Gundam is a custom-built gunpla created to be the "brother" machine to the God Gundam. The ability to merge with the Core Lander has been removed. Instead, the energy-generator components are mounted on the forearms, and the God Finger Protector on the forearms has been relocated and integrated into the ankle armor, allowing it to use an emerald green glow martial art with the legs.

◀▲ The Beam Tonfa is carried on the sides of the backpack. It has a removable face mask. To avoid interfering with movement, the shoulder and waist armor have been reduced in size.

HG Gundam Barbataurus

A Gunpla based on the Gundam Barbatos. By connecting two Gundam frames, it has been transformed into a four-legged silhouette with a centaur motif, making it significantly larger than other suits. The asymmetrical antenna on the head and the massive horns on both shoulders are eye-catching.

● 2200 yen, released in January 2022

▲▲ Its primary weapon is a large bow that can transform into handguns or the Twin Blades. The additional armor on the back's left and right sides has 3 mm holes and appears to have a large weapon loading capacity.

HG GUNDAM 00 COMMAND QAN[T]

The 00 Qan[T] is a custom Gunpla with SD Command Gundam elements added. It has a massive silhouette with military features, as opposed to the original Qan[T]. Furthermore, the entire body is armored, giving the machine a significantly different appearance than the original machine.

◀▲ A Heavy Machine Gun with a bayonet is mounted on the right arm. The original QAN[TGN]'s Shield has been relocated to the left hand, along with a Combat Knife and a Launcher. The backpack also contains a powerful Command Sword and a missile launcher, providing it with overwhelming offensive power.

MOBILE SUIT SD GUNDAM

DATA

It contains 10 OVAs and 3 theatrical anime movies shown between May 1988 and March 1993. Included titles: Mobile Suit SD Gundam, Mobile Suit SD Gundam Festival, and Mobile Suit SD Gundam Festival Plus and others. There are 27 episodes total. Bonus Videos: "Mobile Suit SD Gundam : SD Gundam. H: Past, Present, and Future," "SD Gundam Encyclopedia Part 1" etc.

It includes the entire Mobile Suit SD Gundam series, from the first animated SD Gundam OVA, Mobile Suit SD Gundam MK-I through MK-V, as well as the theatrical animation Mobile Suit SD Gundam Strikes Back. It also includes parodies of the original Gundam, the Olympics, a school festival, and various episodes with real Gundams. SD Sengokuden also contains popular episodes like "Chapter of the Violent Final Sky Castle" and "Zumushitei no Ninja Gassen."

In addition to SD Sengokuden, the popular Mobile Suit SD Gundam Gaiden series includes episodes ranging from "the Lacroan Heroes" to "Knight of Light," which depict the adventures of the Knight Gundam and Albus Knights. This is one of many stories set in the world of Sudad Dooraka (* which is in fact the Japanese name for the original card game from which they were derived but spelled backwards (CARDDASS)). Even after a long time, the episode "Musha, Knight, Command SD Gundam Emergency Sortie" is a masterpiece in which Musha Gundam, Knight Gundam, and Command Gundam co-star. This episode is also included in Mobile Suit SD Gundam Festival Plus, a theater-focused compilation. Also included are SD Gundam Gaiden: Seikihei Monogatari, SD Commando War Chronicles: Gundam Force, Super G-Arms, Final Formula VS Noum Gyaza, and The Tale of the SD Warring States: World Peace Chapter.

There are far too many attractions associated with SD Gundam to list here. However, we hope you enjoy watching the origin of the SD Gundam anime.

SD GUNDAM FORCE

DATA

It contains all 52 TV series episodes broadcast from January 2004 to December 2004. Bonus videos: SD Gundam Force, bonus disc "Zakozako Disc"... Includes "Zakozako Hour Special Edition," "Secret Footage", etc.

The first SD Gundam TV series was SD Gundam Force Dark Axis, in which an army of machine life forms, invades Neotopia, a future city where humans and robots coexist peacefully. Captain Gundam, the leader of the "Gundam Force," a special combat unit of the dimensional defense organization S.D.G. (the Super Dimensional Guard), face off against Dark Axis alongside Shouto, a Neotopian boy with whom he shares a bond. Later they are joined by a winged knight, Zero and Bakunetsumaru from another dimension. The first half is set in Neotopia, while the second half is set in Lacroa, the home of Zero and Bakunetsumaru, and later at Ark, where a decisive battle takes place. While the characters of Musha, Knight, and Command from previous SD Gundam works appear in this title, a new worldview has been created, depicting cross-dimensional battles and the passionate friendship between humans and robots.

▲ Captain Gundam, who was damaged during the battle, is repaired by Shouto, and the two become partners.

▲ Knight Gundam of Lacroa, devoted to the realm's King and Princess. He came to Neotopia in search of a way to restore the kingdom of Lacroa, which had been magically petrified by the Dark Axis invasion.

▶ Through interaction with Shouto, Captain Gundam develops his soul drive, the source of his energy.

▲ Musha Gundam from Ark is dimensionally transferred to Neotopia after being caught in a rogue transporter during a battle between Kibaomaru's allied forces and the Dark Axis.

▲ Dark Axis joins forces with the powerful in each dimensional world to expand the invasion.

Wishing for peace, Liu Bei Gundam sets out on a journey to fight the Yellow Turban bandits, which he defeats with the help of Guan Yu Gundam and Zhang Fei Gundam, whom he meets along the way. Subsequently, Liu Bei develops into a chivalrous man through battles with powerful enemies such as Dong Tak Zaku, who plans to dominate Mirisha, and Lu Bu Tallgeese, who possesses tremendous strength, meets new friends, and bids farewell to sworn brothers. Meanwhile, Cao Cao Gundam, a former enemy of Dong Tak's army, has established a capital in Xujing and is consolidating his power. He is now pursuing his path to supremacy by force in order to unite Mirisha. Finally, at Red Cliff, Liu Bei and Sun Quan square off against Cao Cao. What will become of Mirisha's unification, the chivalrous champions' goal?

▲ Brave heroes clash for the sake of their country, peace, and defeating formidable foes, each with their own thoughts and feelings in mind.

New Mobile Report Gundam Wing:
MS TAXONOMY IN THE AFTER COLONY ERA

Endless Waltz

New Mobile Report Gundam Wing: Endless Waltz, which was well received in Vol.4, is featured again in this issue. While Vol.4 focused on the custom kits of the main characters' first five Gundams, we will now shift our attention to the mobile suits in the latter half of the story, such as the MG Wing Gundam Proto Zero on the cover and the MG Gundam Epyon. In addition, we refeature four other Gundams from Vol.4 (excluding Wing Gundam), with new armaments from the comic, New Mobile Report Gundam Wing Endless Waltz: Glory of the Losers (by KADOKAWA). Using custom kits created by professional modelers, we'll chart the relationships between the MS, which appear to be more complicated than in the TV anime. We also show the mechanical correlation chart of the mobile suits, as well as kit reviews of Gundam Wing suits. Immerse yourself in the world of New Mobile Report Gundam Wing!
